b) SAPLING CHALLENGE

When you plant a tree, you don't just plant a sapling but hope. We have learned it the hard way that trees are extremely important for our survival. We first resorted to deforestation and made space for more buildings on earth. Later, when we saw the environment getting seriously affected, we were introduced to something called "afforestation", a simple process of planting more trees for a better future.

Trees are essentially the livestock of humankind and other living organisms. They have unconditionally provided us with food, oxygen, and many other necessities for human sustainability, such as shelter, medicines, tools, and many more. With such rich values and importance, trees still do not get treated properly. They are cut down, eliminating any kind of life around the area.

However, with each passing day, the relevance and importance of planting trees have only increased. It has to be a combined mission of all mankind to plant more trees in order to save our ailing planet.

Thus, we have our global Tree Plantation Day which is celebrated on 21st March all over the world. The aim behind observing the said day is to make people aware of the importance of planting trees and help them realize the same. A common practice during tree plantation day is to plant saplings in order to invest in the future.

But why only plant trees when the day says so, every day is tree plantation day and we must work towards building a secure future for other generations to come. We should not be restricted by the standard norms of society and rise above ourselves and our nature before our selfish needs. If you don't save trees, in return your atmosphere will have less oxygen and the primary source of livestock and food will be eliminated from the earth.

Since the very beginning trees have given us the gift of life's essentials, such as food and oxygen. Many generations passed and we discovered other many uses of trees and exploited them for our survival. They are so rich in value and significance that their uses have only increased as to satisfy the needs created by our modern lifestyles. To begin with, the wood from the trees was used as fuel and the fruits were consumed by humans. The shade was used to escape heat and fire to escape in cold.

As we evolved and started having modern problems, trees yet remained the same but cater to our modern problems as well. Trees can cut down on energy and conserve a lot of electricity if planted in the right place and they provide you with the richest oxygen available in the atmosphere. However, we overlook these benefits and take trees for granted. We cut the very trees that give us so much to live with and then mull over the fact that nature is being unfair. Well, we need to respect Mother Nature and value the great advantages that trees bless us with every day

5. SWAYAM -DEPOSIT

A recurring deposit is a special kind of term deposit offered by banks which help people with regular incomes to deposit a fixed amount every month into their recurring deposit account and earn interest at the rate applicable to fixed deposits. It is similar to making fixed deposits of a certain amount in monthly instalments. This deposit matures on a specific date in the future along with all the deposits made every month.

The students of Commerce Department has initiated in opening a recurring deposit account. The main aim of this initiative is to maintain an account for the purpose of gathering money for their final year entertainment tour. Both the first year and second year students maintain the account for the sake. The idea of recurring deposit helps them to utilise their money for a worth purpose as they are getting an interest rate on the money deposited.

The interest rate received through the account helps in reducing the amount of money collected from the student, as they receive interest on the amount deposited, even though interest amount won't make any huge difference. It is also helpful for the students to save money for a purpose. Through this initiative the textbook knowledge received by them is made into practice.

The idea of starting a recurring deposit account is to help them in both guiding students in financial management and practicing textbook knowledge in their daily lives.

This provided the students with the practical knowledge of how to record data and to keep both soft and hard copies of them.

XIX. PROGRAMMES FOR SLOW / ADVANCED LEARNERS

1. Academic Grouping and Mentoring

The students in each class will be grouped into 10-15 students each and the seating arrangement will be arranged accordingly. This will help the students for more academic discussions and peer teaching. The performance of each group will be constantly monitored and timely advises will be provided by the mentors. The criteria for grouping and the seating arrangements shall be decided by the class teachers.

2. Peer Group Study – Students Educating Students/ Customer Input Technology

We believe that the quality of the education a student gets at a college or university depends both on the college's resources- faculty, facilities and libraries- and importantly on the quality of his or her fellow students. He or she simply learns more- better, faster, more deeply- in the company of able students than with weak ones. Put that way, the proposition seems reasonable, persuasive, and appealing- we can usually get by simply by asserting it.

The Commerce association developed a new way of teaching with the vision that the real intellectual life of a body of undergraduates, if there be any, manifests itself, not in the classroom, but in what they do and talk of and set before themselves as their favourite objects between classes and lectures. Here the students saw the true life of a college- where youth got together and let themselves go upon their favourite themes- in the effect their studies have upon them when no compulsion of any kind is on them, and they are not thinking to be called to a reckoning of what they know.

The students of each class were divided into various peer groups voluntary with a leader who will be able to up bring her classmates. The peer group studies were conducted in free periods and after college time in classrooms or down the steps or in auditorium or in veranda. The system of students Education Students helped the students to understand their difficult subjects more easily and they were made capable of asking doubts to teachers without fear and thus to have better results in their examinations and to enjoy their campus life.

3. Question Bank Preparation

The Department of Commerce has co-ordinated to form question banks in order to support the students. By way of collecting previous years question papers of University Exam and internal exams prepared by teachers were great help to students to prepare their own

Question banks- It made easier for the students to become familiar with questions and answers. This endeavour helped them to avoid tension and to become stress-free at exam times. This was lead by teachers and students from the senior classes.

PowerPoint encourages and supports teaching learning process by facilitating the material presentation. Making your presentation more interesting through the use of multimedia can help to improve the audience's focus. PowerPoint allows you to use images, audio and video to have a greater visual impact. These visual and audio cues may also help a presenter be more improvisational and interactive with the audience. 4. BOTTLE ART

- Reshma Rose Thomas- 2nd Bcom Taxation

I, Reshma Rose Thomas of 2nd DC B.com hereby reports that my lockdown days were fruitful. I had converted some of the useless bottles into beautiful, artistic miniatures. Thus I had utilised my boring Corona days useful and very creative. I had decided to make bottle arts because since it is a useless and non-degradable item, by creating art on it, it added more beauty to the home and helped to showcase my talent. Thus I was also able to protect the environment in some way.

Bottle art is a unique type of creativity arising from reusing the bottles and transforming them into a piece of art. Basically best from the waste. The used glass bottles can either be recycled or brought into use through these creative ideas, During this covid pandemic many students had taken up this art as a way to relieve themselves from the stress, boredom for some as a source of income.

- Chikku Mariya Sebastian-2ndc Bcom Taxation

Our houses are full of waste paper that we mostly throw into dustbin but this paper pen stand/holder can be made by using waste newspaper in a constructive manner. Pen holder can be easily made with rolled newspapers or rough papers. we can also color and decorate it with something which is reusable. Paper Pen holder can be made without any cost and it is really attractive one.

- Nayanthara Vijayan-2ndc Bcom Taxation

“I made all these crafts during lockdown period to relieve my boredom. It is not just a method to avoid boredom, but an effective method to transform the unwanted stuffs to beautiful crafts. I converted piece of newspapers into wall hangings, plastic bottle to beautiful flowerwase, the yarn that covering the flower wase is a thing that I collected from grocery store while I make purchases. 2. PLANTING OF SAPLINGS

When you plant a tree, you don't just plant a sapling but hope. We have learned it the hard way that trees are extremely important for our survival. We first resorted to deforestation and made space for more buildings on earth. Later, when we saw the environment getting seriously affected, we were introduced to something called "afforestation", a simple process of planting more trees for a better future.

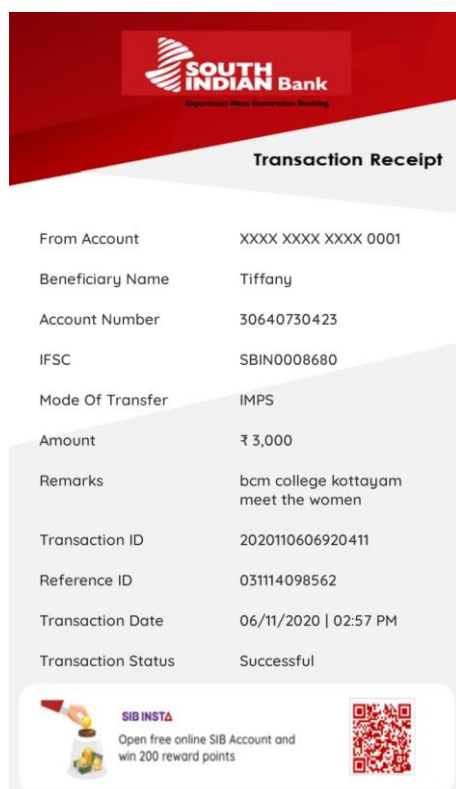

Since the very beginning trees have given us the gift of life's essentials, such as food and oxygen. Many generations passed and we discovered other many uses of trees and exploited them for our survival. They are so rich in value and significance that their uses have only increased as to satisfy the needs created by our modern lifestyles. To begin with, the wood from the trees was used as fuel and the fruits were consumed by humans. The shade was used to escape heat and fire to escape in cold.

- Vrinda Viswam- 3DC B.Com Taxation

I am Vrinda Viswam. I am a home baker, who is new to this field. Recently the pandemic and lockdown made me interested in baking. I used to make cakes, cupcakes, cookies, cake pops, chocolates, jar cakes etc. And supply these items according to the customers need. Being a home baker is a lot of hard work. However the satisfaction that I get out of doing this makes it worthwhile. Anyone can bake a cake, but innovation is required. So I try to bring personal flair on my goodies. The taste and novelty brings my customers back again.

The major challenge I have faced in running a home based business as a baker was delivery. Initially several customers would express an interest but would be put off by the distance they had to travel to collect the cake. However once the business and the reputation as a home baker grew there was no problems faced in this respect. Once people think you are worth the effort they make the effort.
