Mg University CBCSS Degree regulations 2013:

REGULATIONS FOR UNDER GRADUATE PROGRAMMES UNDER CHOICE BASED COURSE-CREDIT-SEMESTER SYSTEM AND GRADING, 2013.

Preamble

The committee of experts constituted by the Kerala State Higher Education Council headed by Prof. B Hridayakumari, to study and make recommendations for the improvement of the working of the Choice Based Credit and Semester System in colleges affiliated to the Universities in the State had submitted a comprehensive report. After reviewing the entire scenario this committee recommended to the Higher Education Council that CBCSS may be maintained with some basic reforms. The old system was lacking in innovativeness and in the capacity to come to grips with fast changing global conditions. A few changes in the course and examination pattern may improve the situation to some extent. The Performance Grading of the learner shall be on the Seven Point Grading System. The absolute grading system of 07 points is the most popular grading system and has been accepted by the UNESCO, the Committee suggested that the overall structure of the 07 point grading system may be considered by all affiliating Universities of the State. It should be a simple and clear method; easy for the teacher to operate and the student to understand. There should be a clear distinction between letter grades so that the assessment is as precise as possible and just to the student. If necessary for the final grading at the end of the programme proper software could be devised to ensure exactitude as well as speed of evaluation. Teachers should use the marking system for each question for each course. Cumulative Grading will be done during the preparation of the final mark list of the programme. It is not claimed that the Seven Point Range Indirect Grading is the last word in grading, but it is a well thought out pattern for all the affiliating Universities to consider, within the limits of the present system. The State Government has accepted the recommendations of the Committee and the Syndicate of the Mahatma Gandhi University has resolved to reform the existing CBCSS regulations. # COMPARATIVE STUDY REGARDING IMPROVEMENT OF OVERALL GRADE POINT OF STUDENTS

APEP was introduced in the academic year 2016-17. The average Semester Grade point average obtained by students of various undergraduate students is summarized in the following table.

	I Sem	II Sem	III Sem	IV Sem	V Sem	VI Sem
2013-16	5.9307	5.8342	5.7468	7.3698	6.3589	7.8434
2014-17	7.3234	7.2676	6.4707	7.5805	8.0040	7.9721
2015-18	7.0731	7.1765	7.4282	7.6635	7.9451	7.9917

Those cells with a green background show the average SGPA obtained by the students after the introduction of APEP. It is very evident that there has been a linear trend with positive slope in the SGPA after the introduction of APEP. The following line chart gives a better idea about the impact of APEP on the SGPA of the students.

APEP test was introduced in the academic year 2016-17. It can be seen that the students used to be complacent during the odd semester prior to the introduction of the APEP. Even in the final semester there was an increase in the GPA of the students, after the introduction of GEA. Students of 2014-17,2015-16 batch are appearing for their APEP from their fifth semester and third semester onwards.

A natural question that may arise into the minds seeing the line graph mentioned above is whether the changes in fifth semester SGPA between 2014-17 (with APEP in fifth Semester) and 2013-16 (without APEP) is due to the APEP or due to the the difference between their marks of the students which we which can observe in the first four semester . An analysis of Covariance (ANACOVA) was performed with fifth semester results as the dependent variable, fourth semester marks as the covariate and the introduction of APEP (1 for the presence and 0 for the absence of APEP) as fixed factor was performed and the regression model accommodates almost 70% variability in the SGPA observed in the fifth Semester. The result of the ANACOVA is given in the following table.

	Unstandardized Coefficients		Standardized Coefficients	Statistic	p-value
	B	Std. Error	Beta	t	Sig.
(Constant)	1.20	.15	.00	7.74	.000
S4_SGPA	.87	.02	.81	42.61	.000
APEP	.31	.04	.13	7.12	.000

Corresponding to the variable APEP, we have a p-value less than 0.0001, indicating the factor APEP has a significant effect in the SGPA for the fifth semester. It can also observed that fourth semester SGPA too has a significant role in the S5 SGPA

To confirm the impact of APEP on SGPA, comparison between the third and fourth semester SGPA between the 2014-17 batch and 2015-16 batch, when the APEP was introduced for the first time, with their respective second semester SGPA as covariate was performed.

Comparison between third semester SGPA.

Almost 90% variability in the S3 SGPA was measured using the linear model with second semester SGPA and APEP as independent variables and the results are summarized in the following table.

	Unstandardized Coefficients		Standardized Coefficients	Statistic	p-value
	B	Std. Error	Beta	t	Sig.
(Constant)	.70	.09	.00	7.58	.000
S2_SGPA	.93	.01	.93	78.92	.000
APEP	.10	.04	.03	2.42	.016

Here too the p-value against the independent variables are less than 0.05. Hence at 5% level of significance we can conclude that Second semester SGPA and the APEP has significant role in determining the third semester SGPA

A similar study was performed on the fourth semester SGPA between 2014-15 and 2015-16 batches and here the model was successful in explaining 89% variability in the fourth semester SGPA.

	Unstandardized Coefficients		Standardized Coefficients	Statistic	p-value
	B	Std. Error	Beta	t	Sig.
(Constant)	.98	.08	.00	12.01	.000
S2_SGPA	.91	.01	.94	86.49	.000
APEP	.21	.04	.06	5.33	.000

p-value less than 0.001 indicates a strong dependence of fourth semester SGPA on the APEP.

To confirm further we made a comparison between the first two semester SGPA for the 2015-18, who did not have APEP in the first two semesters and 2016-19 batch was also performed.

The summary of the SGPA for the first two semesters of 2015-18 and 2016-19 batches is given below

	APEP	Mean	Std. Deviation	S.E. Mean
S1 SGPA	2015-16 Batch (Without APEP)	7.08	1.25	.06
	2016-19 Batch with APEP	7.29	1.25	.06
S2 SGPA	2015-16 Batch (Without APEP)	7.18	1.20	.06
	2016-19 Batch with APEP	7.34	1.17	.05

It can be seen that for both semesters when there is APEP, the average SGPA has improved when there is APEP.

1. Krishnapriya H (B.A Sociology 2017-20)

I am Krishnapriya.H, I was a student of sociology undergraduate course in (2017-20).The APEP series which took place everyday at the zero hour specially dedicated for revisions helped me a lot in building my confidence and knowledge in the subject matter and eventually helped me in cracking University exams with a good SGPA. The test papers helped me in different spectrums like in revising ,and memorizing every module etc which made me systematic and up to date in my academics. It helped in developing answer writing skills, and linguistics skills. The faculties were kind enough to point out the mistakes in the answers, which later helped me in my University exams. Myself being a mediocre student found that it was helpful in revising what I learned during class hours,and gave a nutshell of information about how to write answers with an examination point of view. The test papers helped in finding my academic strata and improving my academics,it further helped for time management,and stress management too, I learned note making and precise writing through these test papers. Daily tests and quizzes acted as a positive catalyst for my academic success by enhancing my confidence, helping me in revising the modules before the semester exams etc They really transformed a mediocre student like me to a bright student.I am forever grateful to these test papers,as it helped me to reach my goal by making me aware of my true academic potential

Yours faithfully

3. Subitha Sudhakaran, B.A.English literature Model 1 (2016-2019)

I am Subitha Sudhakaran, who was a student of undergraduate course, English literature Model 1, 2016-2019. Academic performance Enhancement Practice, the APEP sessions, as the name itself says, has indeed immensely helped me in enhancing my scores in the University exams. It provided me an opportunity to introspect my low areas and aided in improving them. I believed myself to be a bright student but fears and diffidence have always bridled me. But, APEP has successfully unchained my shackles of panic and helped me to unfurl my wings into success. We had quizzes, group discussions, mock vivas and test papers regularly under this scheme and it has slowly nurtured the mustard seeds of faith in me and made me to cherish hope in myself. The daily corrections from our teachers and quality discussions among the peers were added merits of the scheme. Each time, it makes us happy and motivated to surpass the previous performance. The vibes of healthy competition it sowed on the vibrant minds of student community makes them torch bearers of the nation. The mastery of knowledge as well as the smartness to fetch more scores entwined the success of each BCM student.

4. Sneha S, B.Sc Mathematics(2017-20)

I am Sneha.S, I was a student of BSc.Mathematics course in (2017-20)batch. First few months after joining the course, I found the course to be much difficult to understand.APEP (Academic Performance Enhancement Practice) conducted at zero hours had helped me to understand the classes and improved my grades. It showcases me to learn the subject overall. Also it challenges my mind to search memory dataset for information that is relevant during the exam. It helped me to self assess, overcome failure and also improve the quality of education.Daily test papers correct my flaws and rectify for the main exams. All teachers helped me to overcome all challenges which we face during the exam through this program which seems very helpful. Because of all these, I was able to write the University exam without any fears.

Yours faithfully,

Sneha. S

7. Raiza Rebecca Jacob, B.Sc Physics (2017 – 2020)

I am Raiza Rebecca Jacob, Student of BSc Physics 2017 – 2020 Batch. The APEP series which took place at the Zero hour has helped me to store information in long-term memory. This practice works because it helps to retain information in a better way than simply studying material.

While reviewing concepts helps to become more familiar with a topic, information is quickly forgotten without more active learning strategies like regular practice exams.

These tests are designed for immediate feedback so that we can see our areas of strength and weakness and to take steps for growth. Faculties were kind enough to give immediate feedback that helped me to easily recognize my mistakes and eventually develop strategies for tackling weak points.

These tests taught me Time Management, being Up- to date in Studies, boosting my confidence & helping me to crack the University Exams with a good CGPA. I am greatly thankful for these test papers as it made me motivated to build on the existing knowledge & helped me progress.
