

COMMON ROOMS

A room on the ground floor in the College is exclusively maintained for the students to take rest comfortably whenever they feel to do so. The room is given the name “Aashiyana”, a term in Hindi which means Bird’s nest. Students those who are feeling unwell often utilizes the room. A pad vending machine is installed in the room. An infirmary functions in the College which is equipped to provide primary health care service to students during the college hours.

An infirmary is maintained in the College in the ground floor of the College for the sick students to take rest.

